

Epistemic Relativism: Recent Proposals and Criticism Monday, June 26 2017 Room 3A NIG universität wien

Department of Philosophy
University of Vienna
<https://philosophie.univie.ac.at>

9:00 - 9:30 Olga Ring

Are Sankey's Epistemic Particularism Paired with Epistemic Naturalism Good Opponents for Epistemic Relativism?

9:30 - 10:00 Richard Bärnthaler

The Fallacy of Naturalism as a Response to the Relativist

10:00 - 10:30 Jesse de Pagter

The Azande - Exploring the Equal Validity of Epistemic Principles in Relativism

10:30 - 10:45 Break

10:45 - 11:15 Soheil Human

[How] Can Predictive Processing Approach to Cognition Contribute to Epistemology? - The Case of Absolute Relativism

11:15 - 11:45 Tom Fery

Motivating Epistemic Relativism via the Encounter Situation

11:45 - 12:15 Anne-Kathrin Koch

The Relativist's Case for Non-absolutism

12:15 - 13:15 Lunch Break

13:15 - 13:45 Lucas Smalldon

The Nature of the Galileo vs. Bellarmine Dispute

13:45 - 14:15 Clemens (Josef) Loidl

Epistemic Relativism and Reasonable Disagreement

14:15 - 14:45 Victoria Lavorerio

Do Irresolvable Disagreements Motivate Relativism

14:45 - 15:15 Christoph Lernpaß

Debunking, Disagreement and the Option of Moral Relativism - When is Absent Dissent Epistemically Relevant?

15:15 - 15:30 Break

15:30 - 16:00 Henriikka Hannulla

Practical Reasons and Relativism about Normativity

16:00 - 16:30 Jakob Schott

Kuhn's Structure Interpreted by Richard Rorty and Paul Boghossian

16:30 - 17:00 Karoline Paier

Feminist Standpoint Theory - What Kind of (Anti-)Relativism?

17:00 - 17:30 Daniel Eduardo Marante Mendoza

Bloor's Relativism in the Light of Boghossian's Absolutism